INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES

RATHBONE SICAV MULTI-ASSET ENHANCED GROWTH PORTFOLIO

The investment objective of the Sub-Fund is to deliver a greater total return than the United Kingdom's Consumer Price Index (CPI) measure of inflation +5%, after fees, over any rolling five-year period by investing with the Liquidity, Equity-type risk and Diversifiers Assets framework developed by the Investment Manager.

The Sub-Fund aims to deliver this return with no more volatility than that of the FTSE Developed Market Index. There is no guarantee that the Sub-Fund will achieve a positive return over this, or any other, period and investors may not get back the original amount they invested.

Investments will be made without any specific country, currency or sector restriction.

The Investment Manager uses a variety of quantitative and qualitative inputs to guide the strategic asset allocation decisions, considering the geopolitical background, economic growth expectations, central bank policy, interest rates, inflation and liquidity. These factors are analysed in tandem with specific asset class information such as risk premiums, volatility, credit spreads, earnings growth, cash flow, dividend growth and valuations.

The Investment Manager combines in-house research and analysis with insights from specialist third-party strategists. The Investment Manager uses these inputs to develop long-term strategic asset allocation positions along with tactical and thematic ideas to capture specific investment opportunities.

The current asset allocation can be obtained free of charge from the registered office of the Investment Manager.

RATHBONE SICAV MULTI-ASSET TOTAL RETURN PORTFOLIO

The investment objective of the Sub-Fund is to deliver a greater total return +2%, after fees, than the Bank of England's Base Rate, over any three-year period by investing with the Liquidity, Equity-type risk and Diversifiers Assets framework developed by the Investment Manager.

The Sub-Fund aims to deliver this return with no more than one-third of the volatility of the FTSE Developed Markets Index. There is no guarantee that the Sub-Fund will achieve a positive return over this, or any other, period and investors may not get back the original amount they invested.

RATHBONE SICAV ETHICAL BOND FUND

The objective of the Sub-Fund is to provide a regular, above average income through investing in a range of fixed income and fixed income related instruments of issuers worldwide that meet strict criteria ethically and financially.

The Sub-Fund will gain, directly or indirectly, exposure to investment grade fixed income and fixed income related instruments of sovereign and corporate issuers worldwide denominated in any freely convertible currency. The predominant part of the fixed income and fixed income related securities to which the Sub-Fund will be exposed will be denominated in GBP. The issuers of the instruments to which exposure is obtained must comply with strict ethical and financial criteria, a description of which is available under www.rathbonefunds.com.

The Sub-Fund will gain exposure to sub-investment grade instruments for up to a maximum of 20% of its net assets. The Sub-Fund will invest at least 80% of its assets in investment grade assets. The investment grade of an instrument shall be determined based on ratings established by international recognised rating agencies. The Sub-Fund may also invest up to 10% of its net assets in un-rated assets that the Investment Manager considers to be equivalent to investment grade or sub-investment grade.

The Sub-Fund will not invest in fixed income and fixed income related instruments rated or considered by the Investment Manager as distressed or lower.

On an ancillary basis, the Sub-Fund may also invest in money market instruments and liquidities.

In response to exceptional circumstances, the Sub-Fund may invest on a temporary basis up to 100% of its net assets in liquidities (including bonds or treasury bills issued by a government of any OECD country or supranational organisations, money market instruments and cash) if the Investment Manager believes that this is in the best interest of shareholders

The Sub-Fund may also hold up to 20% of its net assets in equities of issuers of the fixed income and fixed income related instruments to which the Sub-Fund may gain exposure.

Information on the environmental/social characteristics (Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation "SFDR"):

The Sub-Fund targets an investment grade high yield with a strong ethical overlay which consists of a negative screening followed by a positive screening.

The Sub-Fund therefore takes sustainability risk and environmental, social and governance ("ESG") characteristics into account as part of its selection process. In that respect, the Sub-Fund promotes environmental and/or social characteristics within the meaning of Article 8 of SFDR.

Information on the environmental/social characteristics is made available in the annex IV to the unaudited section of this annual report.

RATHBONE SICAV HIGH QUALITY BOND FUND (LIQUIDATED ON 19 JULY 2024)

The objective of the Sub-Fund was to preserve capital and pay an income by delivering a greater total return than the Bank of England's Base Rate +0.5%, after fees, over any rolling three-year period.

There was no guarantee that this investment objective would be achieved over three years, or any other time period.

The Bank of England's Base Rate +0.5% was used as a target for the Sub-Fund's return as the aim was to provide a return in excess of what an investor would receive in a UK savings account.

To meet the objective, the Sub-Fund would have invested at least 80% of its net assets in corporate and government bonds with high credit ratings (AAA to A-). The Sub-Fund may also have invested up to 20 % of its net assets in investment grade corporate and government bonds with lower credit ratings (BBB+ to BBB-) or unrated bonds that the Investment Manager considered to be equivalent to investment grade. Up to 10% of the net assets of the Sub-Fund could be invested directly in contingent convertible bonds. If a bond's rating falls below BBB-, otherwise known as high yield, the Sub-Fund would have sold it within six months. The Sub-Fund would not invest more than 20% of its net assets in ABS/MBS with minimum credit ratings of BBB-.

The Sub-Fund may have invested globally but at least 80% of its net asset would be invested in sterling denominated assets or hedged back to sterling.

Derivatives may have been used by the Sub-Fund for the purposes of efficient portfolio management and hedging.

The Sub-Fund may, on an ancillary basis, have invested at the Investment Manager's discretion in transferable securities (other than those referred above), money market instruments, warrants, cash and near cash and deposits and units in collective investment schemes.

Under exceptional circumstances, the Sub-Fund's net assets may have been invested up to 100% in cash and cash equivalent and money market instruments.

The Investment Manager would have assessed credit ratings of Standard & Poor's, Moody's and Fitch. When credit ratings differ, the Investment Manager would have considered the average rating. If the average fell between two notches, the lower credit rating would have been applied.

RATHBONE SICAV GLOBAL OPPORTUNITIES

The objective of the Sub-Fund is to provide above average long-term capital growth through direct or indirect exposure to equity securities of issuers worldwide. The Investment Manager looks for less well known large or mid-sized growth companies from developed markets. The Investment Manager is not restricted by sector or geography. The Sub-Fund typically holds between 40 and 60 positions.

In response to exceptional circumstances, the Sub-Fund may invest on a temporary basis up to 100% of its net assets in liquidities (including bonds or treasury bills issued by a government of any OECD country or supra national organisations, money market instruments and cash) if the Investment Manager believes that this is in the best interest of shareholders.

Derivatives and forward transactions may be used by the Sub-Fund for the purposes of efficient portfolio management (including hedging).

To meet the objective, the Sub-Fund may also invest at the Manager's discretion in money market instruments, warrants, cash and near cash, deposits and units in collective investment schemes. Use may be made of borrowing, cash holdings, hedging and other investment techniques.

DIRECTORS' REPORT

The Company has increased by 13.8% from GBP 571m to GBP 650m. This is mainly due to market conditions over the period, a detailed market outlook below.

MARKET OUTLOOK

A highly volatile quarter for markets ended with a strong rally into the end of September as weak jobs data in the US and good inflation data allowed the Federal Reserve (Fed) to get the rate cutting cycle underway. We also saw a healthy broadening out of markets this quarter with the equal weighted index outperforming by 3.6% — a small reversal of the 5% per annum underperformance seen over the past 3 years driven by the Mag 7. In a sign of increasing confidence that a recession will be avoided value outperformed growth by 6%, and Small Caps outperformed by over 3% over the quarter.

A reasonable month for performance as the equity funds benefitted from the market broadening out. Overall, the Company performance remains strong across the key franchises. Year to date the bigger single strategy funds – Global Opportunities and Ethical Bond are second and first quartile respectively. Rathbone SICAV Global Opportunities and Rathbone SICAV Ethical Bond Fund 3-year numbers are obviously still impacted by the selloff in 2022, but 1-, 2- and 5-year numbers are all first quartile. The Multi-Asset range also had a stronger month and Rathbone SICAV Multi-Asset Strategic Growth Portfolio is ahead of the CPI objective year to date. This also led to an improvement versus peers, and although still towards the bottom of the league table over one year, we are third over three years and second over five years.

Multi-Asset is benefitting from external advisors continuing to seek total investment solutions. We are well placed here, but it is noteworthy that the biggest growth area is on platform Managed Portfolio Service, where we have historically not been involved. The Propositions team are looking at potential solutions here, building an in-house proposition to replace the IW&I product.

For the balance of this year and into 2025, we expect the current trends to continue with generally similar gross sales rates and higher redemptions, although this is even harder to forecast than usual. We expect the single strategy fund range to be hit harder than the solution oriented multi asset funds. Pricing will continue to be the subject of many discussions with clients.

PERFORMANCE

Over the year ended 30 September 2024, the Sub-Fund (L-class GBP accumulation units) gained 13.6%. For the same period, the Sub-Fund's CPI +5% benchmark returned 7.4%. The portfolio's three-year volatility as a percentage of the FTSE Developed global stock market index was 108%, compared with a target of 100%.

PORTFOLIO ACTIVITY

The inexorable rise of AI chip designer Nvidia is a remarkable success story. As the dominant provider of the chips needed to power AI, it's benefited from massive demand for its products at increasing prices and profit margins. That means the company now accounts for about 6% of the entire S&P 500! And, in turn, this means that it's viewed as a critical market driver, with its results getting as much scrutiny as big macro events like jobs reports. We trimmed our position over the period, given its rapid rise.

An effect of higher interest rates than in past years is that it makes certain structured products more attractive. These investments are contracts with investment banks that pay specific returns when triggered by certain scenarios. We bought the Morgan Stanley FTSE 100/S&P 500 13.15% Flat Autocall 2028 which pays a 13.15% coupon and gives us our capital back if, in a year's time, both the US and UK stock markets are above the level at which we bought in. If one or both are in the red. the autocall doesn't pay out but rolls the coupon payment into the next year. This continues until both indices finish a year above their trigger levels or the contract reaches its final maturity in 2028. If in five years' time both indices haven't fallen below where they started, then we are paid 65.75% (13.15% for each year) and our capital is returned. However, if one or both indices has fallen more than 25% then we suffer capital losses in line with the market. If the worst-performing index has dropped by less than 25% we get our capital back only. This sounds complicated, but the point of the investment is that it locks in a high annualised return if markets don't fall precipitously and stay there. In return, we give up any stock market returns above our 13.15% payoff. We believe this is a good way to make returns while reducing risk.

Because we felt that bond markets would remain volatile, we adjusted one of our diversifying investments. We had owned two types of Société Générale VRR Index (Rates Volatility) structured product that makes money if volatility increases in the US Treasury yield: a vanilla one solely reliant on increased volatility, and another that also made money if the rates trended up or down. While we thought US rates will continue to leap around on investor sentiment, there's less clarity about whether the rates will trend downward or upward from here. Therefore, we sold the trend-following version and put that money into the vanilla version, so we should make money if rates continue to move erratically and a lot.

While we don't allocate assets geographically, there are times when structural trends emerge that we'd like to gain exposure to. The 'three arrows' of former Japanese Prime Minister Shinzo Abe's reform agenda for corporate Japan, which began more than a decade ago, have started to bear fruit. Corporate governance changes have taken effect, further supported by changes implemented by the Tokyo Stock Exchange, This, alongside structural shifts in Japanese monetary policy and a more robust macroeconomic backdrop, have left Japan in a very different place to the last 30 years. This is reflected in the much stronger performance of Japanese equities over the last year or so. To gain exposure to this positive trend, we added the Credit Agricole TOPIX Callable Note 2029 structured product that's based on the Japanese stock market index. It gives us the potential for some capped exposure to TOPIX gains plus conservative downside protection to any weakness.

We bought the Goldman Sachs FTSE 100/Nikkei 225 15% 2030 structured product in July. This pays a 15% coupon each year as long as neither of the two stock markets is down more than 35% at each annual valuation date. If this is triggered, then the note loses money in proportion to the market.

We bought more shares in the SPDR Russell 2000 ETF, which tracks the small-cap US index. Of course, 'small' is relative and the Russell 2000 constituents are still huge compared with companies in the rest of the world. We added to the Russell because we felt its companies are now better valued than the large-cap-denominated S&P 500 index after years of lagging performance.

In the fourth quarter of 2023 we bought a Citigroup Oil (WTI) Autocall 2025 structured product. This is a contract with an investment bank that pays a predetermined rate of interest as long as the price of WTI oil is above USD 69 at one of its five valuation points between now and June 2025. If this doesn't happen, we receive our capital back. If the price falls more than 40% below USD 69, then we lose money in line with the oil price. We bought this to protect ourselves from another rise in the oil market, while also protecting our capital in all but the most extreme falls in the oil price.

Towards the end of the first half of the period, we sold the UBS FTSE 100 Accelerator structured product to lock in gains after a strong run for the blue-chip UK stock market index.

We sold out of our holding in global sportswear behemoth Nike. We've owned the shares for a long time but had begun to worry that Nike's dominance in sportswear might be starting to slip. Other brands have been grabbing more market share, with Nike falling behind on innovations and product launches that are a hit with consumers. China is an important market for Nike, so it's suffered from the drop in Chinese consumer spending as the country's economy continues to slow.

Finally, big US banking group Capital One agreed to buy bank and credit card issuer Discover Financial, which we held. The deal will be paid completely in stock and we think Capital One is a lower-quality business. We don't want to hold this company after completion, so we took advantage of the boost in share price from the deal and sold.

MARKET OVERVIEW

The long wait for interest rate cuts dominated markets for most of the period. The steady drip of monthly data on inflation, jobs and economic output kept investors guessing and caused some wild swings in prices of everything from stocks and bonds to commodities. As we expected, interest rates started to fall in the second half of 2024. The European Central Bank moved first, closely followed by the UK. The US Federal Reserve (Fed) – the most important central bank for global monetary policy – finally joined the party in mid-September. It delivered a double-dose, half-percentage-point cut taking the overnight rate to a band of between 4.75% and 5.00%.

The anticipation of these cuts drove government bond yields much lower over the period, albeit with a lot of volatility. The benchmark US 10-year government bond yield dropped from 4.58% to 3.79% while the benchmark UK 10-year government bond yield fell from 4.50% to 4.01%. UK bond yields didn't descend as far as the US because markets felt the US had more flexibility to cut than the UK, especially after a run of soggy American jobs data through the summer.

Global inflation appears to be conquered, albeit higher-than-normal services inflation lingers, driven by sticky wage growth that's taking much longer to fall than many people had expected. We think rates should continue to fall from here as economic growth eases and inflation continues to normalise. Exactly how much and how long they take to drop will no doubt greatly influence the market mood.

While we expect the US economy will slow from here, we think a recession isn't the most likely outcome. If we're right, that should be good for stock prices, as rates fall and profits aren't upended by a contracting economy. This should benefit bonds as well, although they have already posted gains in anticipation of falling rates, so they may be a bit rockier in the coming months — at least until they come to an agreement with the Fed's view of the world.

The market's mood music will jive or trip in line with economic data and how the Fed interprets it. As long as the chance of recession appears slim, inflation stavs in check and the central bank keeps lowering rates, we think markets will be supported. But there may be a few missed beats as monthly data drops occasional clangers. We're trying to keep focused on the bigger picture and the direction of travel.

We think the US economy – which has underpinned global growth of late - seems in relatively good shape. Recent data shows it's slowing from the red-hot growth of the past few years, but that was to be expected. The deceleration shouldn't be an issue unless the Fed keeps rates too high for too long, choking the economy into recession. It all comes down to the gradient of its path from here.

RATHBONE SICAV MULTI-ASSET STRATEGIC GROWTH PORTFOLIO

PERFORMANCE

Over the year ended 30 September 2024, the Sub-Fund (L-class GBP accumulation units) gained 13.2%. For the same period, the Sub-Fund's CPI +3% benchmark returned 5.4%. The portfolio's three-year volatility as a percentage of the FTSE Developed global stock market index was 78%, higher than its target of 67%.

PORTFOLIO ACTIVITY

Since last summer, we've believed interest rates. on both sides of the Atlantic had peaked and that the next moves would be down. While market expectations rolled up and down with the release of each piece of economic data, we have long thought that interest rates wouldn't fall until the second half. of the year.

Because of this, we bought bonds when yields spiked (prices fell), yet for most of the period we didn't really sell in great amounts when the yield fell back again (and prices rose). This meant we steadily built our exposure to bonds, both in the UK and abroad. And at the same time we adjusted our portfolio so that we hold more longer-dated bonds, whose values are more sensitive to changes in prevailing interest rates. These included the US Treasury 2.25% 2041.

This thinking also led us to buy Portuguese Government 1.65% 2032 bonds. Because economic growth and inflation were lower on this side of the Atlantic and we felt that rates would fall sooner than in the US, pushing up European bond prices. The European Central Bank duly started cutting rates in early June. Added to this, at the time you were paid about 1.3% to 'hedge' the euro back to sterling (fix the euro-sterling exchange rate into the future). This makes those investments unaffected by fluctuations in the euro/sterling exchange rate, and yet we were paid to eliminate this risk.

While we don't allocate assets geographically, there are times when structural trends emerge that we'd like to gain exposure to. The 'three arrows' of former Japanese Prime Minister Shinzo Abe's reform agenda for corporate Japan, which began more than a decade ago, have started to bear fruit. Corporate governance changes have taken effect, further supported by changes implemented by the Tokyo Stock Exchange. This, alongside structural shifts in Japanese monetary policy and a more robust macroeconomic backdrop, have left Japan in a very different place to the last 30 years. This is reflected in the much stronger performance of Japanese equities over the last year or so. To gain exposure to this positive trend, we added the Credit Agricole TOPIX Callable Note 2029 structured product that's based on the Japanese stock market index. It gives us the potential for some capped exposure to TOPIX gains plus conservative downside protection to any weakness.

In the summer and into September, stock markets fell sharply and government bond prices swelled as investors grew increasingly concerned about a possible recession in the US. We took the chance to lock in some profits by selling the US Treasury 1.5% 2030, 2,25% 2041 and 1,875% 2032.

While we expected interest rates and bond yields to fall, we didn't think it would be a smooth ride. The ierky sort of volatility – both up and down – that encapsulated 2023 seemed likely to continue for some time as investors hung on every economic data release and central bank conference. That's why we bought the JPMorgan 5.13% Dispersion Note 2025 structured product. Structured products are contracts with investment banks that pay specific returns when triggered by certain scenarios. This one pays us a quarterly coupon amounting to 5.1% each year, as well as a return based on the 'dispersion', or volatility of a basket of stocks relative to the volatility of the S&P 500 stock market index. By volatility, we mean that the prices of underlying stocks within the index move up and down more than the price of the index itself. This structured product will repay our capital and then some if the difference in volatility between the basket and the index widens between when we bought it and the October 2025 maturity. If the volatility difference decreases over the period, the capital return may be negative.

An effect of higher interest rates than in past years is that it makes certain structured products more attractive. Another structured product we bought was the Citigroup FTSE 100/Russell 2000 10.46% Autocall 2029. This pays us a 10.46% coupon as long as both the FTSE 100 and the 2000 are above where they were in August when the contract began. If by the end of the at least one of the indices is down by more than 20%, we will lose capital in line with the worst-performing index.

Because we felt that bond markets would remain volatile, we adjusted one of our diversifying investments. We had owned two types of Société Générale VRR Index (Rates Volatility) structured product that makes money if volatility increases in the US Treasury vield: a vanilla one solely reliant on increased volatility, and another that also made money if the rates trended up or down. While we thought US rates will continue to leap around on investor sentiment, there's less clarity about whether the rates will trend downward or upward from here. Therefore we sold the trend-following version and put that money into the vanilla version, so we should make money if rates continue to move erratically and a lot.

Finally, we sold some of our holding in the iShares Physical Gold ETF in the fourth quarter of 2023 and the third quarter of 2024 as the gold price steadily increased from roughly USD 1.880 a troy ounce to about USD 2,600.

The US Federal Reserve (Fed) – the most important central bank for global monetary policy – finally joined the party in mid-September. It delivered a double-dose, half-percentage-point cut taking the overnight rate to a band of between 4.75% and 5.00%.

The anticipation of these cuts drove government bond yields much lower over the period, albeit with a lot of volatility. The benchmark US 10-year government bond yield dropped from 4.58% to 3.79% while the benchmark UK 10-year government bond yield fell from 4.50% to 4.01%. UK bond yields didn't descend as far as the US because markets felt the US had more flexibility to cut than the UK, especially after a run of soggy American jobs data through the summer.

Global inflation appears to be conquered, albeit higher-than-normal services inflation lingers, driven by sticky wage growth that's taking much longer to fall than many people had expected. We think rates should continue to fall from here as economic growth eases and inflation continues to normalise. Exactly how much and how long they take to drop will no doubt greatly influence the market mood.

While we expect the US economy will slow from here, we think a recession isn't the most likely outcome. If we're right, that should be good for stock prices, as rates fall and profits aren't upended by a contracting economy. This should benefit bonds as well, although they have already posted gains in anticipation of falling rates, so they may be a bit rockier in the coming months — at least until they come to an agreement with the Fed's view of the world.

The market's mood music will jive or trip in line with economic data and how the Fed interprets it. As long as the chance of recession appears slim, inflation stays in check and the central bank keeps lowering rates, we think markets will be supported. But there may be a few missed beats as monthly data drops occasional clangers. We're trying to keep focused on the bigger picture and the direction of travel.

We think the US economy – which has underpinned global growth of late – seems in relatively good shape. Recent data shows it's slowing from the red-hot growth of the past few years, but that was to be expected. The deceleration shouldn't be an issue unless the Fed keeps rates too high for too long, choking the economy into recession. It all comes down to the gradient of its path from here.

Over the year ended 30 September 2024, the Sub-Fund (L-class GBP accumulation units) gained 10.9%. For the same period the Sub-Fund's benchmark, the Bank of England Base Rate +2%, returned 7.3%. The portfolio's three-year volatility as a percentage of the FTSE Developed global stock market index was 48%, compared with a target of 33%.

PORTFOLIO ACTIVITY

Since last summer, we've believed interest rates on both sides of the Atlantic had peaked and that the next moves would be down. While market expectations rolled up and down with the release of each piece of economic data, we have long thought that interest rates wouldn't fall until the second half of the year.

Because of this, we bought bonds when yields spiked (prices fell), yet for most of the period we didn't really sell in great amounts when the yield fell back again (and prices rose). This meant we steadily built our exposure to bonds, both in the UK and abroad. And at the same time, we adjusted our portfolio so that we hold more longer-dated bonds whose values are more sensitive to changes in prevailing interest rates. These included the US Treasury 2.25% 2041 and UK Treasury 0.875% 2033.

This thinking also led us to buy Portuguese Government 1.65% 2032 bonds. Because economic growth and inflation were lower on this side of the Atlantic and we felt that rates would fall sooner than in the US, pushing up European bond prices. The European Central Bank duly started cutting rates in early June. Added to this, at the time you were paid about 1.3% to 'hedge' the euro back to sterling (fix the euro-sterling exchange rate into the future). This makes those investments unaffected by fluctuations in the euro/sterling exchange rate, and yet we were paid to eliminate this risk.

In the summer and into September, stock markets fell sharply and government bond prices swelled as investors grew increasingly concerned about a possible recession in the US. We took the chance to lock in some profits by selling the US Treasury 1.5% 2030, 2.25% 2041 and 1.875% 2032. Similarly, around the same time the benchmark Australian 10-year government bond yield dropped sharply below 4.0%. We took the opportunity to trim our holding in Australian Federal Government 1.0% 2031 bonds and take profits.

We replaced a two-year-old structured product that matured in May with the Citi Commodity Curve June 2026 product on similar terms. Typically, the value of a contract for future delivery of commodities is lower than the spot price because they tend to be bulky and costly to store. In the lingo, this default situation is called 'contango'. However, due to the upheaval in commodity markets and supply shortages lots of buyers are using futures to lock in what they need further down the line, pushing up the price of futures relative to spot prices. This 'backwardation' difference is high in all sorts of commodities from metals and energy through to livestock and grains; we believe it will return to its contango equilibrium in time. Our structured product makes money if this occurs.

While we expected interest rates and bond yields to fall, we didn't think it would be a smooth ride. The jerky sort of volatility – both up and down – that encapsulated 2023 seemed likely to continue for some time as investors hung on every economic data release and central bank conference. That's why we bought the JPMorgan 5.13% Dispersion Note 2025 structured product. Structured products are contracts with investment banks that pay specific returns when triggered by certain scenarios. This one pays us a quarterly coupon amounting to 5.1% each year, as well as a return based on the 'dispersion', or volatility of a basket of stocks relative to the volatility of the S&P 500 stock market index. By volatility, we mean that the prices of underlying stocks within the index move up and down more than the price of the index itself. This structured product will repay our capital and then some if the difference in volatility between the basket and the index widens between when we bought it and the October 2025 maturity. If the volatility difference decreases over the period, the capital return may be negative.

Because we felt that bond markets would remain volatile, we adjusted one of our diversifying investments. We had owned two types of Société Générale VRR Index (Rates Volatility) structured product that makes money if volatility increases in the US Treasury yield: a vanilla one solely reliant on increased volatility, and another that also made money if the rates trended up or down. While we thought US rates will continue to leap around on investor sentiment, there's less clarity about whether the rates will trend downward or upward from here. Therefore, we sold the trend-following version and put that money into the vanilla version, so we should make money if rates continue to move erratically and a lot.

MARKET OVERVIEW

The long wait for interest rate cuts dominated markets for most of the period. The steady drip of monthly data on inflation, jobs and economic output kept investors guessing and caused some wild swings in prices of everything from stocks and bonds to commodities. As we expected, interest rates started to fall in the second half of 2024. The European Central Bank moved first, closely followed by the UK. #### PERFORMANCE

In the 12 months ended 30 September 2024, the Sub-Fund (Z-class GBP accumulation units) gained 12.62%, while the IA Sterling Corporate Bond returned 10.91%.

MARKET OVERVIEW

For well over two years, global bond markets have borne the brunt of one of the most aggressive interest rate-rising cycles on record as the world's biggest central banks hiked rates from near-zero in a bid to tame persistently high inflation. Now, after a long wait, those rates are starting to fall back once more.

At the start of the period, the benchmark 10-year UK government bond yield was 4.51%. By 30 September 2024, after a quarter-percentage-point cut from the Bank of England in August, it had dropped back to 4.01%. Those figures in isolation don't show just how hugely volatile the 10-year yield has been over the last year. In December 2023 it had dropped to 3.51% as it was reported that the UK had fallen into recession in the second half of the year. The yield then rebounded in the spring to roughly 4.20% because the UK's inflation rate proved stickier than elsewhere. As 2024 progressed, inflation fell below 4% back towards the central bank's target of 2%.

Inflation has receded abroad as well, allowing most major central banks to cut interest rates, most notably the US Federal Reserve and the European Central Bank. By and large, the broader global economy has proved remarkably resilient in the face of high interest rates. The US in particular has defied gloomy predictions of a looming recession driven by much higher borrowing costs that squeezed away at businesses and consumers' spending power.

Global government bond yields have been very sensitive to forecasts of rate cuts — especially to the expected path of US rates. Contradictory and volatile economic data along with circumspect guidance from the Fed's rate-setting committee members has led the market to second-guess the path of rates many times over the past 12 months. This is likely to continue.

Even though this was a turbulent period for government bonds, corporate bond markets have proved remarkably resilient. Credit spreads (the extra yields that corporate bonds offer over government debt to compensate for their higher default risks) tightened for much of the year, bar a few temporary spikes in April, June and August. The iTraxx European Crossover Index spread fell from 426 basis points (bps) to 311bps.

That overall tightening reflects growing investor confidence that the global economy will manage to swerve a deep recession that might trigger a deluge of defaults and downgrades, despite the big increase in borrowing costs over the last couple of years.

PORTFOLIO ACTIVITY

We don't invest in mainstream UK government gilts as the government is involved in some areas prohibited by our screening criteria. Instead, we focus on the UK's green sovereign bonds ('Green Gilts') as an ethical alternative. We traded our Green Gilts throughout period, buying more when yields rose and selling some of them when yields fell. To do this, we bought and sold the UK Green Gilt 1.5% 2053 and 0.875% 2033 bonds

Early in the period we bought some newly issued insurer Phoenix 7.75% 2053 bonds. These bonds were issued to replace some Phoenix bonds that we owned which it had asked bondholders to 'tender' (sell back). When issuers tender for their bonds, they can sweeten the deal by offering to buy them at premium prices, giving us scope to lock in attractive price gains.

Early in 2024, we bought some European Investment Bank (EIB) 5.625% 2032 and 5% 2039 bonds. The EIB is a quasi-government organisation deemed exceptionally unlikely to default because it's backed by several European governments which means it benefits from a triple-A credit rating, the highest rating possible. Buying these bonds enabled us to up our credit quality at a time when rates markets were highly volatile. When the outlook improved, we sold some of both the EIB 5.625% 2032 and EIB 5% 2039 to reduce our duration (the sensitivity of our portfolio to changes in yields).

As credit spreads rallied over the period, we sold the Lloyds Banking Group 2.707% 2035 as we thought it was a prudent way for us to reduce some risk. It's the longest-dated tier 2 bond that we own. Tier 2 is much further down the company's credit hierarchy, so would be paid back behind other, more senior debt. This specific bond happens to be a very big issue, which means that it is easier to trade so its spread often widens quickly when credit comes under pressure as investors sell what they can.

OUTLOOK

While government bond volatility dropped back in 2024 compared with the extremes of 2022 and 2023, it's still been a wild ride.

Take just the last two months of our reporting period: first an exceptionally weak US jobs report for July sparked 'manic Monday' in early August and a significant rally in US Treasury yields. Investors anticipated the US Federal Reserve (Fed) starting its interest rate-cutting cycle with a double-strength 50-basis-point cut which duly arrived. However, by late September yields had rapidly unravelled again as stronger economic data made investors reevaluate whether the Fed could continue cutting at the pace many had hoped.

This volatility hasn't just been limited to the US. As Continental economic data continues to disappoint, it seems increasingly likely that the European Central Bank (ECB) will cut rates again in October and thus increase their current rate-cutting pace of 0.25% each quarter. Here at home, Bank of England Governor Andrew Bailey suggested in a recent interview an openness to picking up the pace of rate cuts, assuming continued progress on inflation. Albeit other rate-setting committee members take a less dovish view. And then there's the Budget at the end of October, which could change the supply of gilts.

Given the economic uncertainty driving large volatility in bond markets, we think the wild times will continue for a while yet. But at the same time, we think bond yields offer good value for the risk we're taking on.

At the start of the period, the benchmark 10-year UK government bond yield was 4.51%. At the time of the fund's closure on 19 July it had fallen to 4.13%. By 30 September 2024, after a quarter-percentage-point cut from the Bank of England (BoE) in August, it had dropped back to 4.01%. The ICE Bank of America Sterling Corporate Bond Index spread (the extra yield that corporate debt offers over government bonds for taking on default risks) began the period at 158 basis points (bps) and had narrowed significantly to 109bps by 19 July when the Sub-Fund closed, By 30 September. it was 115bps.

That overall tightening reflects growing investor confidence that the global economy will manage to swerve a deep recession that might trigger a deluge of defaults and downgrades, despite the big increase in borrowing costs over the last couple of years.

PORTFOLIO ACTIVITY

Because of our Sub-Fund's lower-risk nature, we kept our portfolio significantly less sensitive to changes in prevailing yields than most bond funds ('shorter-duration' bonds).

In October, we bought some newly issued US tractor manufacturer John Deere 5.125% 2028 bonds. These were the first sterling-denominated bonds from the company in many years and the only currently outstanding. Given John Deere's quality brand, we felt they would probably remain in strong demand among UK investors. We liked the terms of the bond and were happy to lock them in for longer than our Sub-fund typically averages.

Early in the period, government bonds were selling off sharply as investors grew increasingly convinced that central banks would stick with their commitment to keep interest rates higher for longer. We felt this was an opportune moment to add more duration (interest rate risk) to our Sub-Fund at very cheap prices. As a result, we added to our Gilt 1.625% 2028s and also bought several slightly longer-dated bonds issued by quasi-government organisations that are deemed exceptionally unlikely to default because of their government backing. For example, we bought some European Investment Bank (EIB) 0% 2028. Asian Development Bank (ADB) 5.125% 2028 and KFW 4.875% 2028 bonds. The EIB and ADB are supranationals – institutions established by the governments of two or more countries to pursue specific policy objectives – while KFW is a German state-owned development bank. This government backing means the EIB, ADB and KFW all benefit from very high credit ratings: they have triple-A ratings, the highest rating possible.

Throughout the period, we traded our slightly longer-dated Gilts and supranational debt. sometimes taking profits when we felt they were looking pricey and sometimes buying more when they looked good value. But we pared back our ADB bonds overall, selling some of the 5.125% 2028s and also some shorter-dated 6.125% 2025s. We did this because we felt our ADB bonds looked less. attractive than some of our other supranational debt.

We felt that selected corporate bonds with high credit ratings (ratings of A minus and above) offered very decent compensation for any potential hit to their returns if credit spreads widened. But because of the risk that high borrowing costs would prove challenging for some specific bond issuers, we dialled back our exposure to some lenders whose businesses we felt could come under pressure if the economic outlook gets trickier. For example, we sold some of our US life insurer Athene Global Funding 1.75% 2027 bonds in late 2023 and early 2024 and some of its 1 875% 2028s from mid-2024 onwards These bonds tended to have a higher beta than is usual for their credit ratings, so it was a helpful way to de-risk our Sub-Fund.

As our Sub-Fund was wound down and then closed in July 2024, we sold all our assets. These sales included Dutch lender ABN Amro Bank 5 25% 2026, as well as all the bonds mentioned above.

MARKET REVIEW AND PORTFOLIO ACTIVITY

We've enjoyed a healthy return over the past year — certainly better than many of the bears had expected. While markets are choppy at the moment, the noise shouldn't drown out the true message: we don't think we're on the cusp of a prolonged bear market. In fact, the long-term future looks bright and we've been buying.

We've benefited from stocks like Nvidia, Google and Microsoft that we've owned for more than five years, Amazon that we've owned for 15 years, and Apple, which we finally bought in the growth sell-off of 2022.

These Magnificent Seven stocks have done well for us, but our machine-driven competitors, the tracker funds, did even better as they don't have the discretion to take profits or to manage the risks inherent in large position sizes.

Over the period we banked some of Nvidia's stratospheric gains — it was up about 800% from the beginning of 2023 to June 2024 with most of the rise coming in this period. The share price has been extremely volatile since, but it's still much higher than it started the period. We've sold around 75% of our holding to manage our position size and risk exposure over that time and we've used that cash to buy new holdings that we believe will be the success stories of tomorrow.

While returns from US stock markets as a whole has been concentrated in a small group of megacap stocks, I'm pleased that the key drivers of fund performance have come from a broad church. Our top performers over the year include Nvidia, of course, Costco, medtech company Boston Scientific, Walmart and robotic surgery business Intuitive Surgical. These companies have the star quality that we look for in a growth stock – innovation. a protected competitive position, resilience. adaptability, scale and strength. Their markets are growing and they're gaining market share. They serve different demand drivers in different industries, adding to our balance and lowering portfolio risk. When mistakes are made or business conditions deteriorate, we believe that our wide range of investment themes and drivers will protect us from the risks involved in the entire portfolio trading in lockstep.

During the period, we made a number of purchases and sales. Trimming our large holding in Nyidia for risk management purposes freed up some cash to make a new investment in ServiceNow a software platform that's a key beneficiary of the ongoing corporate digital transformation phenomenon. Customers can automate, process and optimise tasks, including IT service and operations management, customer service workflows, HR management, security, risk and compliance, right across their operations, Crucially, ServiceNow's cloud-based, digitally native platform has been built from the ground up with a single architecture. That means data flows seamlessly across applications and departments. This makes it easier to deploy additional modules to drive cost efficiencies and growth.

We sold our holding in CoStar, the real estate information services platform. The core business remains solid, but we have concerns about its seemingly limitless and overconfident push into changing the US model for real estate transactions. Recent customer churn implies this is not a simple task. And it's being pursued at the same time as CoStar plans to invest heavily in the UK and then Europe in a bid to take market share off highly entrenched competitors.

We exited tractor-maker Deere as we concluded that our earlier confidence in the resilience of large agricultural equipment sales was misplaced. Sales levels continue to depend heavily on the health of the farming economy and financing costs have got more expensive to boot. We had a thesis that sales would rise as farmers replaced ageing tractor fleets. But this isn't playing out as we'd hoped and there's the potential for a medium-term 'air pocket' in the business cycle.

We also sold mining equipment manufacturer Sandvik because the demand picture has become patchy and we think analysts' optimism may be misplaced. The profit margin targets and rigid pricing built into Sandvik's corporate strategy have a habit of driving unhelpful restructuring at the wrong times – just when demand starts to improve.

Finally, we sold veterinary pharmaceuticals business Idexx Laboratories, our lowest-conviction US name, due to the potential fundamental risk posed by owners cutting back on proactive checkups. Perhaps this is because of the cost-of-living squeeze? Or maybe the idea of an annual check-up hasn't occurred to the tens of thousands of new post-pandemic pet owners (36% of UK owners are new, for instance)? Regardless of this, the possibility of reduced sales growth mixes badly with an historically resilient end-market for animal health that makes Idexx a 'long-duration' bond proxy. highly sensitive to changes in interest rates, with unappealing high-volatility attributes.

At the beginning of the period, we bought into a new holding in Danish drug maker Novo Nordisk. We were slow to recognise the peak sales potential of its GLP-1 weight loss drugs, Ozempic and Wegovy. But we don't believe that embarrassment should detract from the powerful long term investment case for these drugs, given the significant upside from capacity expansion.

We also created a new holding in Thales, the European aerospace, defence and security business. Many decades of underinvestment in defence and security could mean a sustained increase in spending: many nations face new and re-emergent security threats and there is always the risk that support from a future US administration could be shakier. Thales' leading position in securing telco networks and defence electronics should drive healthy growth in its order books, while better earnings visibility should support a higher valuation.

Switzerland's Lonza is one of the world's largest drug makers, working with healthcare customers to develop, manufacture and commercialise medical treatments and technologies. We added to our holding following the sell-off after the market returned to normal as the COVID pandemic eased. and now capacity has come out of the market. Additional growth opportunities may emerge due to the US Biosecure Act, which may ban Chinese service providers on national security grounds.

We also added to our holding in Microsoft following an inflow into the Sub-Fund. This remains a core software holding, which benefits from improving enterprise spending, as well as migration to cloud and AI-driven technologies.

Wild swings in both individual stock prices and the wider market have become commonplace. with recent falls in markets quickly reversed as the narrative around rates and recession changes almost daily. Despite some of the most destabilising months in memory we're always impressed at the adaptability and resilience of our portfolio companies. We remain alert but not hyper-sensitive to newsflow: quick-fire reactions can often be wrong.

We've been managing portfolio positions sensibly to stop large holdings in Magnificent Seven stocks dominating overall portfolio returns when we get market tantrums. And we've also maintained our 'weatherproof' bucket of defensive stocks. We have stocks that benefit from falling rates and 'higher for longer' ones, but we believe both groups will be excellent long-term investments, no matter the short-term headwinds.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Law dated 23 July 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

• Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

Deloitte.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Fund's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Board of Directors of the Fund.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Board of Directors of the Fund use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our report of the réviseur d'entreprises agréé to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our report of the réviseur d'entreprises agréé. However, future events or conditions may cause the Fund to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

The financial statements have been prepared under the Luxembourg laws and requirements and in accordance with Luxembourg generally accepted accounting principles applicable to investment funds under the going concern basis of accounting.

b) Financial statements

Financial statements are presented for each Sub-Fund in the base currency of the Sub-Fund and the combined statements of net assets, operations and changes in net assets are presented in GBP by adding the different Sub-Funds, based on the exchange rate ruling at the date of these financial statements.

c) Foreign currency translation

Assets and liabilities in currencies other than the Sub-Funds' base currency have been translated into that currency at exchange rates ruling at the date of these financial statements. Transactions occurring during the year in currencies other than the base currency are translated at rates of exchange ruling at the transaction dates. The exchange rates applicable as at 30 September 2024 are:

GBP/USD 1.3404 GBP/EUR 1.1978 GBP/CHF 1.1317 GBP/DKK 8.9316

d) Investments

Securities listed on Regulated Markets, which operate regularly and are recognized and open to the public, are valued at the last available price of the main market for the relevant security.

Securities not listed on Regulated Markets, which operate regularly and are recognized and open to the public, are valued on the basis of their last available price.

Shares or units in open-ended undertakings for collective investment, which do not have a price quotation on a regulated market, will be valued at the actual net asset value for such shares or units as of the relevant dealing day, failing which they shall be valued at the last available net asset value which is calculated prior to such dealing day. In the case where events have occurred which have resulted in a material change in the net asset value of such shares or units since the last net asset value was calculated, the value of such shares or units may be adjusted at their fair value in order to reflect, in the reasonable opinion of the Board of Directors of the Company, such change.

The Company may use warrants, derivative and structured products in order to generate long or short exposures. Such structured products may include notes, certificates or any other eligible transferable security whose returns are linked to an index, currencies, interest rates, transferable securities, a basket of transferable securities, or a UCI. Where market prices are unavailable, valuation models are applied considering relevant transaction characteristics, observable inputs or unobservable market parameters. The pricing source of these warrants and structured products is in most cases the issuer, however the prices are reviewed and relayed through third party market providers, such as Atlantic House and Fortem Capital, which is a well-known structurer or collector of the issuer prices, and internally controlled by independent pricing vendors such as Markit.

In the event that extraordinary circumstances render such a valuation impracticable or inadequate, the Board of Directors of the Company may, at their discretion, prudently and in good faith follow other methods of valuation to be used if they consider such method of valuation better reflects the value and is in accordance with good accounting practice in order to achieve a fair valuation of the assets of the Company.

Profits or losses arising on the disposal of investments are calculated by reference to the net sales proceeds and the average cost attributable to those investments.

In Rathbone SICAV Ethical Bond Fund, the six instruments listed below are considered as 'hard-to-value' investments and are currently priced by a reputable external valuer. The valuer applies Fair Value as the basis of valuation, and estimates the implied rating of the investment by assessing the contractual cash flows as at the Acquisition Date and estimating the Yield-To-Maturity and Z-spread required for the discounted cash flow ("DCF") to result in a principal amount of par as at the Acquisition Date.

As of 30 September 2024, the NAV reflects prices as of 30 August 2024 for the below six instruments (valuation report from the valuer is received on a quarterly basis). Prices have been independently reviewed by the Management Company to ensure August prices are still representative as of 30 September 2024.

e) Income and expenses

Dividends arising on the Company's equity investments are credited to the statement of operations when the security is quoted ex-dividend, net of withholding taxes where applicable. Interest income is recognised as the interest accrues (taking into account the effective yield on the asset) unless recoverability is in doubt.

Where the Company incurs an expense which relates to any particular Sub-Fund or to any action taken in connection with a particular Sub-Fund, such liability shall be allocated to the relevant Sub-Fund. In the case where any expense of the Company cannot be considered as being attributable to a particular Sub-Fund, such expense shall be allocated to all the Sub-Funds pro rata to their NAV's or in such other ways that the Board of Directors of the Company deem equitable.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding paragraph, all liabilities of the Company, whatever Sub-Fund they are attributable to, shall, unless otherwise agreed upon with the creditors, be binding upon the Company as a whole.

f) Forward foreign exchange contracts

The Company may enter into forward foreign exchange contracts to hedge against exposures to foreign currency fluctuations. The carrying value of these contracts is the appreciation or depreciation that would be realised if the position were closed out on the valuation date, and is recorded as an unrealised appreciation or depreciation. Upon the closing of the contract, the appreciation or depreciation is recorded in the net realised profit or loss on foreign exchange.

g) Dilution levy and swing pricing

Dilution levy

The Board of Directors of the Company has the ability to charge a dilution levy of up to 1% of the applicable Net Asset Value on individual subscriptions or redemptions on all the Sub-Funds to be determined by Rathbones Asset Management Limited (formerly Rathbone Unit Trust Management Limited) based on the trading activity on each valuation day.

The Board of Directors decided to stop using dilution levy starting 1 January 2024 and use only the swing pricing mechanism.

Swing pricing

Starting 17 November 2022, Rathbones Asset Management Limited (formerly Rathbone Unit Trust Management Limited) implemented a swing pricing mechanism to Rathbone SICAV Ethical Bond Fund. Starting 1 January 2024 the swing pricing mechanism was applied to all Sub-Funds.

Swing pricing is used to adjust the Net Asset Value per Share for a Sub-Fund in order to reduce the effect of dilution on that Sub-Fund, thereby reflecting the true cost of buying or selling investments for the Sub-Fund.

The Sub-Funds use "partial" swing pricing. This means that if on any Dealing Day the aggregate value of transactions in shares of a Sub-Fund results in a net increase or decrease of shares which exceeds a threshold set by the Board of Directors from time to time for that Sub-Fund, the Net Asset Value of the Sub-Fund will be adjusted by an amount typically not exceeding 3% of that Net Asset Value. This maximum amount may vary in case of exceptional circumstances (it may be increased in unusual market conditions, e.g.,pandemic, natural disaster, economic slowdown caused by terrorist attack or war, high market volatility, disruption of markets, etc.).

The adjustment will be an addition when the net movement results in an increase of all Shares of the Sub-Fund and a deduction when it results in a decrease. Adjustments may be made in the following circumstances where the Sub-Fund(s) is, in the opinion of the Investment Manager: experiencing a period of continued decline; experiencing a period of continued expansion; experiencing a level of net redemptions or net subscriptions on any Valuation Date which exceeds the threshold; or any in any other case that the interests of the Shareholders require the imposition of swing pricing.

The Board of Directors of the Company decided to apply the thresholds and swing factors as stated in the table below-

| Sub-Fund name                                            | Period applied                                                | Swing threshold                              | Offer swing factor | Bid swing factor |

What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

N/A. The Sub-Fund does not commit to but may make sustainable investments as a result of and/or to achieve its investment objectives and policy.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

 $\mbox{N/A}.$  The Sub-Fund does not commit to make sustainable investments. as a result of and/or to achieve its investment objectives and policy.

— — How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

N/A. The Sub-Fund does not commit to but may make sustainable investments as a result of and/or to achieve its investment objectives and policy.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

N/A. The Sub-Fund does not commit to but may make sustainable investments as a result of and/or to achieve its investment objectives and policy.

However, the Sub-Fund did exclude investments that did not comply with international labour and human rights standards (such as the International Bill of Human Rights and ILO Core Conventions). Screen also implicitly excluded companies with a serious negative impact on the environment (which, combined with the human rights and labour rights considerations, would be expected to align with the core objectives of the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises).

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

The Sub-Fund considered principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors as a result of its investment process covered by this report.

As a minimum standard, some principal adverse impacts on sustainability were identified and mitigated through the application of the Rathbones' Group-level exclusion policy.

   Over the period, 0% of the Sub-Fund held in excluded issuers of corporate bonds wholly or materially involved in mineral or aggregate extraction fossil fuel exploration and production. Also, issuers with convictions for serious or persistent pollution offences.

- Indicator: investments in companies without sustainable land/agriculture practices; Natural species and protected areas. Over the period, 0% of the Sub-Fund held in excluded issuers of corporate bonds wholly or materially involved in unsustainable sourcing of commodities linked to habitat destruction.

Issuers then satisfied at least one of Sub-Fund's positive criteria requirements: sustainable environmental practices; community engagement; commitment to human rights; or provision of beneficial product and services. The Sub-fund only invested in sovereign debt if issued as a green or social bond and geography was considered.

Where there were data gaps, the Sub-Fund made efforts to determine alignment to its objective; this included working with third parties and experts or making reasonable assumptions.

Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy1?

|   | Yes: |               |                   |
|---|------|---------------|-------------------|
|   |      | In fossil gas | In nuclear energy |
| Χ | No   |               |                   |

&lt;sup>1</sup> Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change ("climate change mitigation") and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objective see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

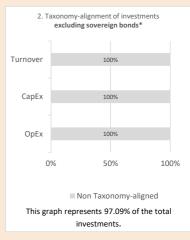

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852.

The graphs below show in green the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the Taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the Taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.

- * For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.
- What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

0%. The Sub-Fund did not target a specified minimum proportion of investments in transitional or enabling activities. # What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

As part of the investment process and contributing to the meeting of E/S characteristics promoted of the Sub-Fund, the Investment Manager applied a negative screening (to exclude any issuers of corporate bonds in breach of any of the exclusion criteria from its universe). Issuers also satisfied at least one of the Sub-Fund's positive criteria. To qualify for inclusion in the investable universe, issuers must have demonstrated progressive or well-developed practices or policies in one of the Sub-Fund's key ethical areas of focus. All the Sub-Fund's investments (excluding cash, deposits and money market instruments) were analysed using the ethical investment process. Over the reporting period, Greenbank ensured that 10 new ideas met the requirements of its robust framework<sup>2</sup>.

Engagement action can typically help to promote the environmental and social characteristics or mitigate the risks they may pose. However, this is a corporate bond fund and so voting rights do not usually attach to its underlying holdings. Please see attached Rathbones Asset Management's bespoke engagement policy. The engagement analyst together with the fund management team have applied this to the Sub-Fund. Making a particular focus on net zero and Science Based Targets (SBTi) and beginning engagement with names that don't have those commitments outlined to gain an understanding as to why. Greenbank, which provides ethical screening services for the Sub-Fund, regularly engages with companies on a variety of issues. For example, as a business, Greenbank engaged with companies held in the fund on the following: Nature, Climate Change and Mental Health.

Through the World Benchmarking Alliance collaborative engagement initiative, a group for investors including Rathbones, wrote to companies invested to urgently assess and disclose their impact and dependencies on nature. This is a topic that represents systemic risk for institutions and the economy as a whole.

Greenbank met with an issuer as part of the Climate Action 100+ investor engagement initiative. The meeting covered how it is overcoming challenges relating to its net zero transition plan and its plans for wider disclosure on lobbying activities, Greenbank were satisfied with the progress the company is making on a broad range of issues.

Rathbones and Greenbank sent multiple letters to holdings reminding them of our climate related expectations and how we will be assessing net zero alignment going forward. We will continue to monitor the company's performance and will escalate engagement where appropriate to address concerns.

A global investor coalition on workplace mental health, comprising 55 investors with a combined $9.6 trillion in assets under management including Greenbank, wrote to a holding. In 2024, they were placed in Tier 4 of the mental health benchmark and the coalition's letter provided recommended actions to support them in improving its formal approach to workplace mental health.
